A WORD FROM THE EXECUTIVE SECRETARY JEFF EBERT

Hello Cheviot Enthusiast,

This is the tenth year that I have served as the secretary of the American Cheviot Sheep Society. My time sure flies when you are having fun. In looking back over those ten years, has much changed? Registration and transfer numbers have held steady. Members have come and members have gone. To be honest the ACSS has pretty much held their own in the last ten years. In an era of declining sheep numbers holding our own is not a bad thing but I feel we can do better.

There seems to be a resurgence in interest in raising sheep. Because of my involvement in various segments of the sheep industry, I seem to get a lot of calls from people looking for ewes and general sheep questions. This indicates a very positive trend for the sheep industry.

Where can Cheviots fit into this potential growth cycle? Cheviots are a very unique breed and can offer a lot to many facets of the industry. Whether it be a junior member looking for an ewe to show or a commercial breeder looking for the perfect ram to sire hot house lambs Cheviots, can fit the needs of the sheep industry. So, let's not just sit by and hold the status quo but let's work together to grow Cheviot numbers both from a registered perspective as well as from a commercial point of view. Reach out to a junior member in your area and help them show a Cheviot ewe lamb, or ask a commercial breeder to use a Cheviot ram on his commercial ewe flock. Promote the breed and the many positive characteristics of Cheviots.

I believe if we work together and promote the many great qualities of Cheviots, we can capture some of this sheep industry growth that is occurring. Let me know what I can do to help you grow the Cheviot breed.

Jeff Ebert

UPDATED INFORMATION WANTED

The American Cheviot Sheep Society emails a periodic newsletter about events and Cheviot happenings. If you would like to be included on this email list please notify the association office at ebertsheepfarm@gmail.com. This will allow the information to get to you, the members, much quicker. Also, if you have corrections to your address or phone number or want to add your cell phone to your breeder listing, please notify the office of that as well. The mailing list is an ever changing list so please do all you can to keep the Association office of any changes in your contact information.

The association is always looking for good farm scene pictures of Cheviots, so if you get a chance take some pictures and send them by email or disk to the association office. Your help in these matters is much appreciated.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The modern Cheviot breed has been produced by selection rather than by crossing. It is a pure breed, one of a very few in this country. Because of this purity, when the Cheviot ram is mated with crossbred ewes of other breeds, he stamps an unmistakable Cheviotness on his offspring, importing to them a large measure of the superiority of which Cheviots are known.

Distinctive Appearance

The modern American Cheviot is primarily a mutton sheep. As sheep weights go, it is definitely one of the smaller breeds but one of the most distinctive in appearance. Much of its distinctive appearance is due to the high carriage of the head and the quick, coordinated stride. The head is carried high, and the ears are carried together, erect and forward. There is no wool on the head or face in front of the ears, nor is there wool below the knees and the hocks. The head, legs, and ears are covered with very fine white hair. Their bare heads, attractive white color and absence of horns give them a very aristocratic bearing. Nostrils and hooves should be black in color. Rams in good condition mature at 160 to 200 lbs., ewes from 130 to 170 lbs.

Extreme Hardiness

The breed is also recommended for its extreme hardiness. This is one of the breed's strongest characteristics. For generations raised on the Cheviot Hills, rarely seeing the inside of a shed or barn, summer or winter, Cheviots have, from force of circumstances, developed into the hardiest of the medium-wool breeds. The newborn lambs are strong, vigorous and alert and are born with a will to live. Their unusual vitality and hardiness makes them easy to raise, and with reasonable care, losses are insignificant.

Production Plus

Cheviot ewes are a delight for the shepherd. They bear their lambs easily, have a high number of twins, and produce plenty of milk to support them. Production records, year after year, show that their twins grow as fast as single lambs. Both the lambs and their mothers are good foragers and thrifty efficient feeders. Their grazing pattern is unlike that of other sheep. Instead of grouping together in a frontal assault on a single area, they tend to spread out over an area and get all the available feed. As rustlers, they have few equals. If there is vegetation to be found—above or beneath the snows—browse, grass, heather, or weed—they will find it.

Desirable Carcasses

The modern Cheviot has a compact body with a straight smooth back with covers a rack of well-filled, meaty chops and a broad loin of superior quality. The leg is full, round and plump. One of the outstanding merits of these choice cuts, the Cheviot has a reputation as a meat producer. These plump, meaty cuts, their pink flesh delicately trimmed with just enough fat to make them juicy and tender, are the housewife's choice because with them she can serve her family a tasty meal with minimum waste. Because they are housewife's choice, Cheviots are the choice of the butcher, and therefore bring a better price at the market. The Cheviot is prized by the meat packers for the very practical reason that the packer gets more pounds of lamb which he buys "on the hoof."

Cheviot rams are excellent sires in crossbred market lamb production programs. Ewes built to deliver larger-headed lambs find the Cheviot-sired lambs, with their small heads, very easy to deliver, so that much less attention is required at lambing time. These lambs are so vigorous, strong, and hardy at birth that losses are kept at a minimum, and a higher percentage of the lambs are raised to marketing age. Successful producers of commercial lambs know their success depends upon their ability to produce the kind of lamb carcasses which the market demands, at the lowest labor and feed cost. Cheviot ram aid these commercial producers in producing the type of lambs desired by the market.

Fine Fleeces

Cheviots produce generous fleeces of white wool which is preferred by mills because its fineness, crimp, and length of staple give it superior spinning and combing qualities, and its low grease content causes less shrinkage in scouring. The fleece is usually grades 1/4 to 3/8 blood combing and is usually from four to five inches in length. Rams will normally shear 9 to 13 lbs., and the ewe will produce fleeces of 8 to 10 lbs.

All Things Considered

Though Cheviots may come in smaller packages, they contain for the sheepman a surprising combination of highly desirable qualities. They are noted for hardiness, longevity, productiveness, milking, and mothering ability and for their great activity. They are high in quality and hang a presentable carcass that has a minimum of outside fat for the amount of carcass lean produced. They utilize rough, low producing hill country very profitably with relatively little assistance from man and even less from the elements. Where there is a really tough clean-up job to be done to convert waste land into dollars, more and more sheepmen are discovering that "Cheviots can take it." In comparing Cheviots with other breeds, let the comparison be made on a basis of pounds of dressed lamb and clean wool produced per acre, and consider all of the costs of this production, including the year-round cost of feeding the ewe, and the time and attention required at lambing and shearing time.

CHEVIOT BREED STANDARDS

Border Cheviots are a small-framed breed of sheep known for their vigor, mother ability, muscle and ease of fleshing. Along with their size, the head is another unique characteristic of the Border Cheviot.

I. GENERAL APPEARANCE 25 POINTS

A. APPEARANCE: Alert, active stylish and symmetrical, standing on moderate leg length. The overall body exhibits balance.

B. SIZE: The preferred Cheviot is proportional in height and length equal to or exceeding the height of the animal. The average Cheviot ram should weigh approximately 200 pounds at maturity. The average Cheviot ewe should weigh approximately 150 pounds at maturity.

II. BREED TYPE 25 POINTS

The beauty of the Cheviot head is one of the breed's distinguishing features. The Cheviot style, alertness and contrasting colors set the breed apart from others.

A. HEAD: Medium in length and broad, with ample width between the eyes. Straight with little arch between the eyes and nostrils; more strongly arched in rams.

1. EARS: Medium in length, sharply erect, of medium thickness, and placed on top of the head. The circumference of the ears should give a curved appearance, rather than flat and open. From a side view, the ears should be pointed slightly forward.

2. EYES: Large, round, clear and alert, with black pigmentation around the rim of the eye.

3. NOSE: Broad muzzled, with large nostrils forming a black "T" at the end of the nose.

4. MOUTH: Black lipped with a strong deep jaw.

B. HAIR COVERING: Head, ears, and legs well covered with fine, short, white hair. Black spots are acceptable on the ears and poll. Black spots on any other part of the body are objectionable. Brown hair on any part of the body is HIGHLY objectionable.

C. HOOVES: Black in color.

III. STRUCTURE 25 POINTS

Soundness is imperative in useful Cheviot sheep. Incorrectness decreases the animal's movement, growth, reproductive rate, longevity, usefulness and ultimate value. Additionally, structure and soundness are highly inheritable traits. Cheviots should stand on large circumference of bone with adequate size to the foot. Structural soundness relates to the skeleton. Incorrectness in one part of the skeleton usually is connected to incorrectness in other parts of the skeleton. For example, usually post-legged animals are also too straight in their shoulder angle.

AREAS OF STRUCTURAL CORRECTNESS

FOREQUARTERS: Shoulder blades should be set in uniformly and smoothly to the rest of the body.

BACK: The back of Cheviot sheep should be straight as possible from the top of the shoulder to the dock. A slightly elevated shoulder in comparison to the hip is acceptable. Additionally, slight slope of the hip from the hook to the pin bones is acceptable.

FRONT FEET: Front View: Both feet should point forward and be perpendicular to the body with straightness from the chest floor to the toe.

SIDE VIEW: Feet should be straight from the chest floor through the knee to the pastern. The angle of the pastern should be approximately 45 degrees. Less of an angle allows for weak pasterns and more of an angle allows for extreme straightness.

REAR FEET: Side View: The back of the rear leg should be perpendicular to the pin bones of the hip. Less angle allows for post-legged individuals. More angle causes sheep to be sickle-hocked.

REAR VIEW: Legs should be square and perpendicular to the corners of the body with equal distance between legs at the hock and the toe.

MOVEMENT: Animals should maintain the proper correctness to the skeleton both while standing and moving. Many times structural defects are not evident until the animal moves about. It is then important to assess structural correctness both while the Cheviot is standing and moving.

For the beginner and veteran breeder alike, an excellent article on feet and leg soundness in sheep is "Feet and Legs" (North Central Regional Extension Publication #301) by Drs. Harold Henneman and Margaret Benson of Michigan State University.

IV. BODY 25 POINTS

A. NECK: Moderately long, trim, and exhibiting extension, blending smoothly into shoulders, and contributing to an overall balanced appearance.

B. SHOULDERS: Smoothly laid in from neck to back. Tight at top of the shoulder, also smooth at the point of the shoulder.

C. CHEST, BRISKET, AND HEART GIRTH:

STANDARDS OF EXCELLENCE

Chest deep and moderately wide, but trim, with adequate capacity, and fitting smoothly into neck and shoulders. Brisket also trim. Heart girth full, broad and deep to promote longevity.

D. BACK (TOPLINE): Long and level, no weakness in front or behind the shoulder.

E. RIBS: Deep and well sprung with adequate cover. Essential for vigor and ease of fleshing.

F. LOIN: Long, wide, deep, and well covered.

G. HINDQUARTERS: Hip broader than shoulders. Rump wide, long and level out to the dock. Leg heavily muscled.

H. UNDERLINE: Level and as parallel to the topline as possible. Flanks deep and full.

I. FLEECE: Chalky white in color, uniform crimp with blunt ends; staple is definite. Covers the body completely from behind the poll and ears to slightly above the knees and hocks, including the belly.

Wool Grade:

3/8 to 1/4 blood combing

(58s to 48s or 27 to 33 microns)

Weight of fleece:

Rams: 8 to 14 pounds

Ewes: 6 to 10 pounds

Fleece Characteristics can be highly objectionable but not disqualifying:

A. Black, brown or grey spots in the fleece

B. Hairy britch

C. Kemp throughout the fleece

D. Shiny fleece

J. TESTICLES (RAMS): Uniform and adequate size for age, and well descended from body. Free from any abnormalities. Scrotum free from any split.

K. TEATS (EWES): Two well placed teats of moderate length, free from any abnormalities.

IV. HIGHLY OBJECTIONABLE CHARACTERISTICS

1. Poor breed type
2. Scurs
3. Bare belly
4. High shoulders
5. Pink or white hooves
6. Nose not totally black
7. Sandy or brown hair on any part of the body
8. Split Scrotum

9. Fleece characteristics per paragraph IV (I)

VI. DISQUALIFYING CHARACTERISTICS

1. Horns
2. Malformed mouth (overshot or undershot jaw)
3. Less than two testicles in rams
4. Less than two teats in ewes
5. Totally pink nose

IMPLEMENTING NEW BREED STANDARDS

The new Cheviot Standards of Excellence were adopted at the 2004 annual meeting of the American Cheviot Sheep Society. The new Breed Standards are the result of more than two years of work by a committee formed in 2002. Through the process of updating the Cheviot Breed Standards, members presented many thoughts and proposals. These thoughts were debated until the final draft was approved by a vote of the members in November 2004.

While probably not perfect, these Standards represent a significant step forward in the preservation of both the desirable carcass and the beautiful and distinctive Cheviot appearance. Now the important task of applying these Standards is up to all Cheviot breeders. Taking time to explain and demonstrate the preferred Cheviot characteristics to young 4-Hers and others who desire to be Cheviot breeders is critical.

Another important task in assuring that these Standards are followed is to choose judges for national Cheviot competitions who will apply them in the show ring. To help the Board of Directors evaluate how an individual judge applies the breed Standards of Excellence, we ask you to fill out the critique form found on the back page of the Cheviot Journal. If you need extra copies of the critique form, please contact the ACSS office. It is very important for each member to do this so we can establish a judge's review to assist in the selection of judges for national shows who follow the Breed Standards.

The American Cheviot Sheep Society has taken a large step forward in guarding and maintaining the quality of our Cheviot breed. It is now up to each one of us to complete this task. Please fill out a judge critique form for each show you attend and follow the instructions for submitting the form. If you would like extra copies of the Cheviot Breed Standards of Excellence to share with judges in your area, please contact the ACSS office.

NEW ACSS DIRECTOR & MEMBERS

Meet Your Director: Greg Farris

My sister and I run a small farm outside Green Bay, Wisconsin. With her living in Rochelle, Illinois, she isn't here often, but her fresh eyes are often helpful, and her ability to do research is invaluable. Our flock numbers about thirty ewes, and three stud rams. I've always enjoyed the cheviot breed, their independent attitude and mothering ability often amazes me. I rely on these traits sometimes heavily during lambing, my job takes me away from the farm for long hours. And these hardy cheviot ewes often have their lambs out, and going, before I get home. Cheviot lambs come out with that looking for lunch, let's get going attitude. I'm convinced during lambing the cheviot breed can't be beat.

As I director, I want to make more breeders aware of the Cheviot breed, and their numerous qualities. They can perform in the showring, look great grazing in a pasture, and still produce quality meat for the case.

GOAL SETTING AND BREAKING

BY: DR. ALLISON CRANE

I have always been a very driven and goal-oriented person. I knew from a young age that I had three main passions: 1) I wanted to work with animals, 2) I wanted to help people, and 3) I wanted to travel and learn about the world. I learned the habits that made pursuing such goals possible. I attended graduate programs that allowed me to learn about and work with sheep and sheep producers on a daily basis. I pursued my Ph.D., made the goal of becoming a sheep extension specialist. I wrote grants to travel and have attended sheep conferences internationally and across the United States. Then, a year and a half ago, I became a sheep extension specialist. That was really the last box to tick of my long-term goals.

I began to ask myself the questions: What's next? And what do I want to do now?

When we begin to do this and have not determined the 'new' vision or long-term goal setting for our personal or professional lives or businesses, we lose direction, let other people's opinions hold too much stock in our decisions, and lose focus on what really matters to our overall goals. I write this to encourage you to continue learning and education yourself by attending seminars and clinics, but to also push yourself and your business to set goals, document your business model, and actually write down what you want your business to stand for. What is your vision? You might ask how do you begin to do this? I included some of the first steps to documenting these things below. I guarantee you that taking these few steps will lead to more questions, but they will also allow you to better understand your business' vision for the future and better guide your daily decisions.

1. Write your top five core values.
  - a. What defines your business?
  - b. What are your passions?
2. Write the core focus of your business.
  - a. From #1, what is the overall theme?
  - b. Your niche? Your purpose/passion/cause?
3. Write your 10-year target.
  - a. Don't be too conservative; ten years is a long time!
4. Write your target market(s).
5. Define your 3 year picture next.
  - a. What date is that?
  - b. What do you think your cost of production is? Or do you know it?
  - c. Revenue? Other measures (equity, net profit, etc.)?
6. What do you want all of those things to be on your farm in three years?
  - a. What are your goals to accomplish on-farm in three years?
7. Do the same for one year goals.
8. Do the same again for 90 days from now.
  - a. How long will these take approximately?
  - b. What issues might you have accomplishing these?

These points give you a solid start for goal setting both personally and professionally. I do this personally in a journal/planner; it's also how I prioritize my 'to-do list'. The main thing to remember is that there are no goals too lofty and that no one is responsible for your goals other than you. You are in control of your business, your goals, and most of all, your life.

"Don't let someone who gave up on their dreams talk you out of yours."

RESERVE CHAMPION EWE

David Allen, OH

CHEVIOT EWE FUTURITY PROGRAM

What is it?

-A point system for youth to participate in and receive monetary prizes from the American Cheviot Sheep Society

***Over $1,500 rewarded annually

-Ewe lambs entered into the futurity can be purchased from other breeders at public auctions or online sales when nominated by the breeder.

-Lambs nominated for futurity may receive points at any show, including both open and junior divisions.

-You can turn in as many point forms as shows you attend, but the top five shows will be used to calculate your final total.

-A point sheet must be filled out for every show and be turned in by November 1st of the current year

-Point forms can be found on <http://www.cheviots.org/>

-The program provides incentive to youth to show their lambs, as well as, recognition to producers for raising high quality lambs.

How do I nominate an ewe lamb for futurity?

-$25 entry fee per lamb

-Lambs can be nominated through online sales, and any public auction managed by Heartland Group, Banner Sale Mgmt., or any other recognized sale management, including the National Cheviot Sale.

Who can participate in the AHSA Futurity?

-Any junior who is under 21 years of age.

-The nominated lamb must be in the junior's name as of September 1st of the current year.

-Only one junior can submit points forms for a specific sheep.

-One junior can have multiple lambs in the futurity; however the junior will only receive premiums for two lambs.

Here is how the points are scored:

Cheviot Ewe Futurity

The American Cheviot Sheep Society will again sponsor the Cheviot Futurity open to all Junior Exhibitors. A "Junior Exhibitor" is defined as an exhibitor who is not older than 21 on the date of the Junior Cheviot Show at NAILE. There is no lower age limit, but the junior must be physically capable of showing their own sheep (exception made for physical or other handicap). Each junior may purchase more than one lamb, but only one lamb placing in the top eight will be awarded premiums. The American Cheviot Sheep Society guarantees the availability of at least $800 to be awarded to the top placings.

Consignors will nominate lambs at specified sales and only these lambs will be eligible for the Futurity. All lambs must be purchased at a designated sale. Most consignment and private online sales offer Futurity nominated ewe lambs.

Consignor Rules:

1. Entries include Spring Ewe Lambs born Jan. 1, 2018 Or later and Fall Ewe Lambs born Sept. 1 2017 Thru Dec. 21, 2017. Yearlin ewes that were previously nominated as lambs can be re-nominated by the juniors for $25.
2. Nominating fee of $25 is payable to the American Cheviot Sheep Society. Lambs must be nominated and designated prior to entering the show ring of a designated sale. Futurity ewe lambs must be sold at the auction of a designated sale and not be pre-sold.
3. Lambs must have scrapie identification in their ear prior to being sold.

Exhibitor Rules:

1. Age limitations for Junior Exhibitor: to be eligible to compete in the futurity, an exhibitor must not be over 21 years of age on the date of the Junior Cheviot Show at NAILE.
2. Junior members must be physically able to show their futurity lamb to qualify for points at each show (exception made for physical or other handicap). If an exhibitor has more than one futurity lamb in a class, the owning junior must show one and another exhibitor must show the second lamb.

3. Futurity lambs are to be registered in the individual junior name only. No partnerships, Farm, family, 4-H Club or FFA Chapter names are acceptable.

4. Ewe lambs and points earned in the Futurity are not transferable to any other person; nor are the points transferable from one lamb to another.

5. Any Futurity entrant may compete with as many lambs as desired, but will receive a premium for the one lamb with the highest point total, in each division.

6. Lambs must be shown in proper age classes.

7. Premiums: The American Cheviot Sheep Society has donated $800 to start the Futurity Premium. A percentage of this money will be awarded to each division based on the number of lambs nominated. The nominating fee will stay within the designated division of the Futurity. Division 1—Spring Ewe Lambs Division 2—Fall Ewe Lambs Division 3—Yearling Ewes

8. The top eight places will be paid in each division.

9. A point card must be filled out for each show and forwarded to the American Cheviot Sheep Society office by November 1, 2018. The card must be signed by the Superintendent of the show certifying that the junior exhibited the lamb, class size and the placing of the lamb.

10. For points-earned purposes, all shows are considered equal; i.e. Aob, Junior, Open, State, County receive equal point value in figuring points. Only the Junior Show at NAILE will be included, excluding the NAILE Open Show.

11. Futurity lambs may compete at any number of shows, but only the top five point-award shows will be included in determining awards.

12. Futurity Awards will be announced at NAILE.

13. The sliding scale shown in the chart indicates how points will be determined.

ESSAY QUESTION:

HOW HAS THE SHEEP INDUSTRY, MORE SPECIFICALLY CHEVIOTS, TAUGHT YOU RESPONSIBILITY IN ALL ASPECTS OF YOUR LIFE?

The definition of responsibility is, “the state or fact of being responsible, answerable, or accountable for something within one’s power, control, or management” (dictionary.com). Because of the sheep industry, Cheviot sheep, I have become more responsible in several aspects of life. Because of my Cheviot sheep, they have helped me gain time management, organization, communication, and patience, which all comes together in the word ‘responsibility’.

From doing chores and lambing to being a part of organizations and sports teams, I have learned time management. Completing tasks with my Cheviots is a priority over my extracurricular activities. For me to participate in other events, I make sure my Cheviots are well attended to by having to make time for my sheep. Knowing that I had an event at night, I must spend more time with chores in the morning. During the school day, I tried to accomplish as much homework or other tasks, so I had time to spend in the barn while maintaining good grades, being an officer in various organizations, and being on sports teams. Time management is one thing that I have gained, as well as, how to be organized.

In the past few years organization has been a big part of my life. For me, record keeping is key. In the barn I write down various things. For example, I write when I put the ram in and pull him out, the date when lambs are born, and when I deworm and give vaccinations. Moreover, I started writing things down in the barn which helped in the real world. I wrote things down in my datebook of assignments due, my work schedule, my practice schedule, and what needed to be done in my Cheviots. Writing these things down helped me stay organized throughout my day and week.

Communication helped me grow as a person and with my family. The sheep industry has helped me from being a shy little girl to an outgoing young lady. Being able to interact with people with the same passion as me, I have become more talkative which helps me communicate with my co-workers, teachers, and teammates. Furthermore, my whole family has a part of the sheep. Yes, the Cheviots are mine, although my aunt and uncle help me get ready for the show. With having to organize when we are preparing for show, I must communicate with them on when we are available to work on them.

Patience is the biggest part of responsibility that I have received. Sometimes my Cheviots won’t cooperate with me. With them being stubborn, I must have patience; otherwise they will never do or go where I want them. Patience will go a long ways for me when working in the Cheviots by myself or with my family. This will help me when things are not going the way I want them to.

My Cheviots have taught me a lot about responsibility. Within the responsibilities, I have been able to manage my time more wisely, be more organized, communicate more effectively, and become more patient. Responsibility, used from all aspects of life, learned from Cheviot sheep.

BREEDER SOUND OFF KELVIN DAVIS

Introduce yourself and your family:

Rising Sun Cheviots flock is operated and managed as a partnership. The flock originated in PA under the management of Betty Jane and Mike Koehler. The flock was relocated to OH and is jointly managed by Henry Zerby, Mike Koehler and Kelvin Davis.

Give us a brief description of your Cheviot Flock:

The current flock consist of approximately 60 brood ewes. A few ewes are bred for fall or early spring lambs but the majority of the ewes lamb in mid- to late-Spring (march and April). We predominantly follow a line-breeding system for the majority of our flock focusing on some matriarch lines. In recent years, a few select rams and ewes have been purchased to evaluate some additional genetic lines. Our selection is balanced on sheep that perform efficiently for terminal markets such as hot-house lambs for Easter and finished lambs throughout the summer and fall as well as sheep that will be competitive in exhibition. As a greater portion of our flock is marketed through terminal sales, our selection focus is weighted towards: ewes that produce and care for multiple lambs without assistance, growth performance, and carcass traits; however, we also emphasize structural correctness and moderate frame to remain competitive for exhibition and seedstock sales.

Why did you choose to raise Cheviots?

Both in PA and OH the flock has been on farms that have soils with poor drainage and remain wet through extended periods of the year. As the Cheviot breed was developed in similar environmental conditions in the United Kingdom, Cheviots complement our environmental conditions. Additionally, we are not full-time farmers and our respective jobs take us away from the flock on a regular basis. We have found that the vigor of newborn lambs, the mothering ability of the ewes, coupled with the general hardiness of the breed fits well with our work lives. Furthermore, the moderate frame, growth efficiencies, and carcass characteristics are a good match to our local market options.

What advice do you have for people starting out with Cheviots?

First, recognize that along with vibrant and vigorous lambs and the hardiness we spoke to above, comes exceptional athletic ability in these sheep. Therefore, proper facilities are an even greater need to manage and work the flock properly. However, we feel the benefits of this vigor and viability far outweigh any associated negatives.

Second, there will be countless people evaluate and comment on your sheep over the years. Respect their comments, but understand they are speaking to ideals for the breed or from their own environments. In some cases, their comments and advice have great purpose and application, in other cases they simply may not fit the environment, market channels, or the goals you have for your flock. Learn to recognize the difference, graciously accept all advice, act on what makes sense for your flock and your goals; after all, you are the one paying the bills and looking at your sheep every day.

What are one or two things that you have found to be critical needs for the success of your Cheviot Flock?

First, we rely on understanding our environment and our market channels and then matching the genetics to connect the two in the most efficient and effective manner. For this to be successful, we focus on records and identification so we can effectively identify the genetic families (not just individuals) who are excelling in this area.

Second, we remain flexible in our feeding and management strategies throughout the year as we find no two years have been the same in terms of available forage from our pastures, quantity and quality of hay, and the price of grain.

Who are some people that you credit for your success with Cheviots?

First and foremost, BettyJane for keeping Mike in-line over the years. The foundation flock was heavily influenced by LO-KE, Erdenheim, and Martin genetics; their respective shepherds were instrumental in shaping some of the values and philosophies we continue to pursue today. We also value the continued support and interactions we have with several folks across the sheep industry.

BREEDER SOUND OFF BUDD MARTIN

Introduce yourself and your family:

My name is Budd Martin and I have been raising Cheviots for 55 years. Through the help of my family and friends I've spent my life doing something I love (Most of the time) My dad, Al Martin was influential in developing the love. In the early years, Karen, the kids (Matt, Amy, Stacey & Laura) were a huge part of my success. Now I continue on with my wife Cheri and our kids and grandkids. We live outside of Willard in a farm we've called home since the 70's. My son Matt, his wife Stephanie and their boys, Brock, Blake and Brett have continued on with the love of sheep, showing and raising a nice flock of their own. My daughter Stacey, husband Jason & their son Jackson have also recently started a small flock. Amy's daughter Kayleigh has been making her mark at the local fair and the rest of the grandkids are a little too young for showing – although they do enjoy peewee showmanship. Over the years there have been many hardships and triumphs but I thank God for my many blessings – most importantly my family. And of course a pasture full of beautiful cheviots.

Give us a brief description of your Cheviot Flock:

I started my Cheviot flock in 1964 at the age of 12 with two ewes that I purchased from the Kagy Family in Bloomville and a ram from ES Kable from East Canton. A couple years later I purchased my first Alvin Shoop bloodlines, a buck – Shoop #426 and later Shoop #746. One of the rams was from a Red Rock ram and the other from a Dave McDowell ram. The two Shoop rams got me up and rolling. From then I was hooked and I showed at all the major shows from 1964 – 1995. In 1970 I showed my buck lambs “Bobo” and “Hot Shot” and between the two won at the Ohio State Fair, Harrisburg and Chicago International. My Senior year of high school “Bobo” was the Champion Buck at Chicago International. During those 31 years I maintained a flock of around 100 ewes. In 1995 I sold my flock to Joe Stout. It was a hard decision to make and I determined that a sheep farm isn't the same without some Cheviots, so several years ago I got back in. Pretty cheviots in the barn can help you look past the tired facilities. I purchased some good bloodlines from Alvin Shoop, Dick Dickinson & the Wilt Family. I purchased a great buck named “Fred” from Linda & Fred Schauwecker & the backbone of my current bloodlines is a ram called “Too Tall” who I purchased from Kaitlin Lewis. “Too Tall” sired my stud buck “Cobra” who has produced the National Champion buck in 2015 and sired Brooke Mazepink's National Jr. Champion Ram Lamb. I currently have 100 mature Cheviot ewes.

Why did you choose to raise Cheviots?

At the age of 12 I started my flock. I didn't like how the previous couple years of showing market lambs at the county fair ending up with them going to slaughter. My dad was using a Cheviot ram with his Corriedale ewes. I was intrigued by the Cheviot's beauty and the fact that they were small, grew slowly and in the mind of a 12 year old that meant I could keep them longer. If I had chosen black face sheep way back then, I wouldn't be raising sheep today.

What advice do you have for people starting out with Cheviots?

My advice for new breeders would be to start out with some older, experienced ewes that have lambs successfully a couple times. Compared to the other breeds, Cheviots take the least amount of management, if you get an experienced ewe, she will do the work for you. Due to the trend of larger Cheviots, lambing them for the first time can lead to difficulties. Also, make sure their pretty! If they aren't pretty, their just another breed of sheep.

What are one or two things that you have found to be critical needs for the success of your Cheviot Flock?

Ease of lambing & that they milk well.
True Cheviot head type and beauty.

Who are some people that you credit for your success with Cheviots?

There are so many people who have been influential in my success with my Cheviots! Between bloodlines and friendships, I can't possibly name them all, but I will do my best (in no particular order).

Alvin Shoop & Family – for the great bloodlines and the beautiful Cheviot heads. For the Annual trip to the National Show and Sale for 20 years and the priceless friendship.

Bob & Sue Willerton – purchased “White Gold” with them, he was one of the top 3 rams I've ever used. They are some of the nicest, most hospitable people I've ever met.

Charlie Smith – the “Silver Fox” he was one of the most interesting individuals that I've met in the industry. I valued his friendship and the trading of ideas.

E.S. Kable – an interesting mentor. Gayle Hoffman – also a lover of great Cheviot heads. Arlin Spilde – our adventures in Washington. Carl Huff – the great time we had in 1974 at Ohio and Indiana. Ellen Walls, Bill Lawter, Rich and Ruthanne Carter, Kenny & Lori Moore – all priceless friendships for years. Thank you all so much!

Final four quick questions, just for fun

What is your favorite sports team?

The Ohio State Buckeyes of course. But quickly moving its way to #1 is Ohio Northern Polar Bears where my oldest grandson Brock is the starting running back.

What is your favorite food?

Meat & potatoes. A meal isn't a meal without meat & potatoes.

What is the top item on your bucket list?

Travel out west – not at a sheep show

What is your favorite place you have visited?

Favorite show – Fryburg, Maine

Favorite place not sheep related - Smokey Mountains

BREEDER SOUND OFF

COLIN SIK

Introduce yourself and your family:

I'm Colin Sik from the Northwest Iowa town of Ocheyedon and I'm single. I do have a father and mother Donald and Jean as well as four brothers and a sister who have all been great help whether with showing sheep, helping bale hay, or doing the other chores necessary around the farm when I'm at the shows.

Give us a brief description of your Cheviot Flock:

I'm running about 45 head of Cheviots as well as eight of my mothers ewes (guess it's time to cut back again). I believe we've been showing at the Clay County fair in Spencer Iowa since 99, according to Ellen we've been at the Iowa State fair for 14 years, and the Nebraska State Fair for the last five years.

Why did you choose to raise Cheviots?

My dad bought my nephew a couple of ewe lambs from Leroy Swenson with the understanding that the following year we would return them to get them bred to one of his rams. They was registered into my mothers and my nephews name. Fast forward when those two ewes lambed they had three ewe lambs, I was impressed with the get up and go of these lambs and told my nephew in exchange for one of the lambs I would buy him a ram. It just kind of exploded after that. Although my nephew is out of the business my mother still has a small flock all tracing to these two original ewes.

What advice do you have for people starting out with Cheviots?

- 1- Not all Cheviots are created equal look them over and decide what type you want to raise.
- 2- Be able to travel to find the type of Cheviots you want to raise.
- 3- Any Sheep can look good in the show ring. Whether you buy at a sale or off the farm watch them move around the pen, the way they move the way they stand. Also put your hands on them and feel what they look like under any trim job. If you get home and you're not happy with them you probably won't be happy with their offspring.

What are one or two things that you have found to be critical needs for the success of your Cheviot Flock?

Family and friends. Good genetics.

Who are some people that you credit for your success with Cheviots?

I was going to skip this one as too many people have helped in lots of small ways that there was no way I could name them all but then I realized there's a few that should be mentioned. Bob Willerton - because the ram I bought from him was such a great stud ram I was able to line breed to him early on and even now his descendants cross well with anything I breed them to. Montadale breeder Gene McGrew from Illinois and his daughter Ellen -no I never used a Montadale - when I first started showing at the Iowa State Fair we worked out an agreement where I would help them with their Mondales and they would help me with my Cheviots- Ellen told me this last summer that we have been helping each other for 14 years- how time flies when you're having fun. I believe it is fair to say without their help I would not have been able to show there as long as I have or to be as competitive with the things I've learned from watching them and listening to him. He is a very knowledgeable man.

Final four quick questions, just for fun

What is your favorite sports team?

College- HAWKEYES

NFL- I raise sheep so no team compares to the Rams.

What is your favorite food?

Meat and mashed potatoes. What type of meat? Beef, lamb, chicken, turkey, and pork.

What is the top item on your bucket list?

Someday I would like to make it to Scotland to see where the Cheviots originated and compare the modern American Cheviot to the Scottish version.

What is your favorite place you have visited?

I will go with the Black Hills of South Dakota because of the wide variety of things to do there.

AMERICAN SHEEP INDUSTRY UPDATE

ASI Annual Convention Wraps Up

The American Sheep Industry Association's 2019 Annual Convention marched into New Orleans Jan. 23-26 and marched out with new officers and a revamped executive board to lead the industry through the challenges of the new year.

Benny Cox of San Angelo, Texas, was elected president to succeed Mike Corn of New Mexico. His personal involvement in sheep - whether it be in production, feeding or trading - has lasted more than 50 years. Cox is a past president of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association and has been a member of ASI's Lamb Council. He is joined on the officer team by vice president Susan Shultz of DeGraff, Ohio, and secretary/treasurer Brad Boner of Glenrock, Wyo.

There were four changes to the ASI Executive Board. Steve Clements of South Dakota was elected to represent region four. Randy Tunby of Montana was elected in region seven, and region eight elected Sarah Smith of Washington. Finally, Bob Harlan of Wyoming stepped into the National Lamb Feeders Association position on the board.

The ASI Lamb Council crafted grassroots policy on the industry's response to current and emerging alternative sources of protein, including laboratory-cultured proteins. Having closely monitored the development of these products and the evolving regulatory framework, members of ASI weighed in supporting the administration's approach of joint oversight between the U.S. Department of Agriculture Food Safety Inspection Service and the Food and Drug Administration.

The policy clearly states that the association opposes any efforts to mislead consumers or disparage traditionally produced natural lamb in product promotion, advertising or labeling. ASI will remain at the forefront of this conversation as the development, regulation and marketing of these products moves forward. America's sheep producers are proud of the healthy lamb they raise and only aim for a level playing field to ensure consumers have the information needed to make decisions that are in their family's best interest.

ASI was pleased to present former House Agriculture Committee Chairman Mike Conaway (Texas) with the industry's highest honor - the Joe Skeen Award. In his tenure as chairman, Conaway drafted the most favorable House version of the Farm Bill for the sheep industry in more than three decades. Conaway fought hard for inclusion of the industry's priorities, not just in the House bill, but all the way through the conference with the Senate to the bill signed by the president.

But Conaway wasn't the only award winner at the 2019 ASI Annual Convention. North Dakota's Burdell Johnson earned the McClure Silver Ram Award for a lifetime of service to the sheep industry. He has been a regular attendee at the convention for the past two decades and volunteers his time to serve as auctioneer for both the Rams PAC and the ASI Women's auctions. He was also instrumental in creating the Young Entrepreneur group that included more than 70 attendees at this year's annual convention. He continues to mentor the group to this day.

Montana dominated the Friday awards luncheon, picking up honors in three of the five categories awarded by ASI. Producer John Helle became just the second winner of the Industry Innovation Award for his efforts in leading the family operation to begin manufacturing its own wool clothing line: Duckworth.

He was joined onstage by John and Nina Baucus, who were selected for the Distinguished Producer Award. The husband and wife team have both held leadership positions at the state and national levels through the years while continuing to work on their historic ranch near Helena, Mont. Ag broadcaster Russell Nemetz, also of Montana, was named the Shepherd's Voice Award winner for his efforts to promote the sheep industry through the media.

While he wasn't on hand for the convention, former ASI staffer Paul Rodgers of West Virginia joined the full board of directors meeting via Skype. In addition to recognizing Rodger's 2018 retirement, ASI officers honored him with the association's Camptender Award for his efforts on everything from animal health to LRP-Lamb insurance to mandatory price reporting in three-plus decades of service with the association.

Look for extensive coverage of the ASI Annual Convention in the March issue of the Sheep Industry News.
