Hello Cheviot Enthusiast,

This is the tenth year that I have served as the secretary of the American Cheviot Sheep Society. My time sure flies when you are having fun. In looking back over those ten years, has much changed? Registration and transfer numbers have held steady. Members have come and members have gone. To be honest the ACSS has pretty much held their own in the last ten years. In an era of declining sheep numbers holding our own is not a bad thing but I feel we can do better.

There seems to be a resurgence in interest in raising sheep. Because of my involvement in various segments of the sheep industry, I seem to get a lot of calls from people looking for ewes and general sheep questions. This indicates a very positive trend for the sheep industry.

Where can Cheviots fit into this potential growth cycle? Cheviots are a very unique breed and can offer a lot to many facets of the industry. Whether it be a junior member looking for an ewe to show or a commercial breeder looking for the perfect ram to sire hot house lambs Cheviots, can fit the needs of the sheep industry. So, let’s not just sit by and hold the status quo but let’s work together to grow Cheviot numbers both from a registered perspective as well as from a commercial point of view. Reach out to a junior member in your area and help them show a Cheviot ewe lamb, or ask a commercial breeder to use a Cheviot ram on his commercial ewe flock. Promote the breed and the many positive characteristics of Cheviots.

I believe if we work together and promote the many great qualities of Cheviots, we can capture some of this sheep industry growth that is occurring. Let me know what I can do to help you grow the Cheviot breed.

Greetings to all fellow sheep breeders and fellow cheviot enthusiasts. I hope this issue of the Cheviot Journal finds you well, and in the midst of a successful lambing season. It’s always exciting to see the lambs hit the ground and start to develop into the up and coming show sheep, sale prospects and replacement possibilities that will take our cheviot breed to the next level.

We are coming off a year of excitement in our breed. Congratulations to Paige Clyde on exhibiting The Supreme Champion Ewe at the North American International Livestock Expo. This was the third supreme champion at the North American in the last few years. Cheviots has proven to be looked at as a powerhouse breed at the highest level shows. That combined with the momentum we have seen in sales and shows across the country are proof of big things to come.

I’ve had the privilege of judging shows from coast to coast the last couple years and I assure you Border Cheviots have been well represented. This past fall at the Eastern States Show in Harrisburg for example, the cheviot show was extraordinary! Both the numbers and quality were phenomenal.

We have one of the greatest breeds to offer youth sheep breeders just getting started, retired sheep folks that still have livestock, and everyone in between. When you consider how low maintenance Cheviots are and how well they do in the lambing barn, it is an easy sell! Several times I have engaged in conversations with sheep people who raise other breeds and talk about how little feed cheviots eat and that they rarely ever need help at lambing time. In addition, it’s not uncommon for the newborn lamb to be up and suckling before their mother even has a chance to get up. Cheviots are efficient at converting feed and their lambs put on weight quickly.

Though Cheviots are known for their alert posture, many people don’t realize how easily they train for the show ring. If the showring is not your thing, that’s ok. Wether your looking for a terminal sire or commercial ewes, cheviots are extraordinary sheep! So the best thing we can do is spread the word on all the positives that our Cheviots have to offer! Good luck to all in the coming months and may your summer and fall bring great success.

Sincerely,

Dan Spilde

The American Cheviot Sheep Society emails a periodic newsletter about events and Cheviot happenings. If you would like to be included on this email list please notify the association office at ebertsheepfarm@gmail.com. This will allow the information to get to you, the members, much quicker. Also, if you have corrections to your address or phone number or want to add your cell phone to your breeder listing, please notify the office of that as well. The mailing list is an ever changing list so please do all you can to keep the Association office of any changes in your contact information.

The association is always looking for good farm scene pictures of Cheviots, so if you get a chance take some pictures and send them by email or disk to the association office. Your help in these matters is much appreciated.

The modern Cheviot breed has been produced by selection rather than by crossing. It is a pure breed, one of a very few in this country. Because of this purity, when the Cheviot ram is mated with crossbred ewes of other breeds, he stamps an unmistakable Cheviotness on his offspring, importing to them a large measure of the superiority of which Cheviots are known.

Distinctive Appearance
The modern American Cheviot is primarily a mutton sheep. As sheep weights go, it is definitely one of the smaller breeds but one of the most distinctive in appearance. Much of its distinctive appearance is due to the high carriage of the head and the quick, coordinated stride. The head is carried high, and the ears are carried together, erect and forward. There is no wool on the head or face in front of the ears, nor is there wool below the knees and the hocks. The head, legs, and ears are covered with very fine white hair. Their bare heads, attractive white color and absence of horns give them a very aristocratic bearing. Nostrils and hooves should be black in color. Rams in good condition mature at 160 to 200 lbs., ewes from 130 to 170 lbs.

Extreme Hardiness
The breed is also recommended for its extreme hardiness. This is one of the breed’s strongest characteristics. For generations raised on the Cheviot Hills, rarely seeing the inside of a shed or barn, summer or winter, Cheviots have, from force of circumstances, developed into the hardiest of the medium-wool breeds. The newborn lambs are strong, vigorous and alert and are born with a will to live. Their unusual vitality and hardiness makes them easy to raise, and with reasonable care, losses are insignificant.

Production Plus
Cheviot ewes are a delight for the shepherd. They bear their lambs easily, have a high number of twins, and produce plenty of milk to support them. Production records, year after year, show that their twins grow as fast as single lambs. Both the lambs and their mothers are good foragers and thrifty efficient feeders. Their grazing pattern is unlike that of other sheep. Instead of grouping together in a frontal assault on a single area, they tend to spread out over an area and get all the available feed. As rustlers, they have few equals. If there is vegetation to be found—above or beneath the snows—browse, grass, heather, or weed—they will find it.

Desirable Carcasses
The modern Cheviot has a compact body with a straight smooth back with covers a rack of well-filled, meaty chops and a broad loin of superior quality. The leg is full, round and plump. One of the outstanding merits of these choice cuts, the Cheviot has a reputation as a meat producer. These plump, meaty cuts, their pink flesh delicately trimmed with just enough fat to make them juicy and tender, are the housewife’s choice because with them she can serve her family a tasty meal with minimum waste. Because they are housewife’s choice, Cheviots are the choice of the butcher, and therefore bring a better price at the market. The Cheviot is prized by the meat packers for the very practical reason that the packer gets more pounds of lamb which he buys “on the hoof.”

Cheviot rams are excellent sires in crossbred market lamb production programs. Ewes built to deliver larger-headed lambs find the Cheviot-sired lambs, with their small heads, very easy to deliver, so that much less attention is required at lambing time. These lambs are so vigorous, strong, and hardy at birth that losses are kept at a minimum, and a higher percentage of the lambs are raised to marketing age. Successful producers of commercial lambs know their success depends upon their ability to produce the kind of lamb carcasses which the market demands, at the lowest labor and feed cost. Cheviot ram aid these commercial producers in producing the type of lambs desired by the market.

Fine Fleeces
Cheviots produce generous fleeces of white wool which is preferred by mills because its fineness, crimp, and length of staple give it superior spinning and combing qualities, and its low grease content causes less shrinkage in scouring. The fleece is usually grades 1/4 to 3/8 blood combing and is usually from four to five inches in length. Rams will normally shear 9 to 13 lbs., and the ewe will produce fleeces of 8 to 10 lbs.

All Things Considered
Though Cheviots may come in smaller packages, they contain for the sheepman a surprising combination of highly desirable qualities. They are noted for hardiness, longevity, productiveness, milking, and mothering ability and for their great activity. They are high in quality and hang a presentable carcass that has a minimum of outside fat for the amount of carcass lean produced. They utilize rough, low producing hill country very profitably with relatively little assistance from man and even less from the elements. Where there is a really tough clean-up job to be done to convert waste land into dollars, more and more sheepmen are discovering that “Cheviots can take it.”

In comparing Cheviots with other breeds, let the comparison be made on a basis of pounds of dressed lamb and clean wool produced per acre, and consider all of the costs of this production, including the year-round cost of feeding the ewe, and the time and attention required at lambing and shearing time.
Border Cheviots are a small-framed breed of sheep known for their vigor, mother ability, muscle and ease of fleshing. Along with their size, the head is another unique characteristic of the Border Cheviot.

I. GENERAL APPEARANCE 25 POINTS
   A. APPEARANCE: Alert, active stylish and symmetrical, standing on moderate leg length. The overall body exhibits balance.
   B. SIZE: The preferred Cheviot is proportional in height and length equal to or exceeding the height of the animal. The average Cheviot ram should weight approximately 200 pounds at maturity. The average Cheviot ewe should weigh approximately 150 pounds at maturity.

II. BREED TYPE 25 POINTS
   The beauty of the Cheviot head is one of the breed’s distinguishing features. The Cheviot style, alertness and contrasting colors set the breed apart from others.
   A. HEAD: Medium in length and broad, with ample width between the eyes. Straight with little arch between the eyes and nostrils; more strongly arched in rams.
      1. EARS: Medium in length, sharply erect, of medium thickness, and placed on top of the head. The circumference of the ears should give a curved appearance, rather than flat and open. From a side view, the ears should be pointed slightly forward.
      2. EYES: Large, round, clear and alert, with black pigmentation around the rim of the eye.
      3. NOSE: Broad muzzled, with large nostrils forming a black “T” at the end of the nose.
      4. MOUTH: Black lipped with a strong deep jaw.
   B. HAIR COVERING: Head, ears, and legs well covered with fine, short, white hair. Black spots are acceptable on the ears and poll. Black spots on any other part of the body are objectionable. Brown hair on any part of the body is HIGHLY objectionable.
   C. HOOVES: Black in color.

III. STRUCTURE 25 POINTS
   Soundness is imperative in useful Cheviot sheep. Incorrectness decreases the animal’s movement, growth, reproductive rate, longevity, usefulness and ultimate value. Additionally, structure and soundess are highly inheritable traits. Cheviots should stand on large circumference of bone with adequate size to the foot. Structural soundness relates to the skeleton. Incorrectness in one part of the skeleton usually is connected to incorrectness in other parts of the skeleton. For example, usually post-legged animals are also too straight in their shoulder angle.

   AREAS OF STRUCTURAL CORRECTNESS
   FOREQUARTERS: Shoulder blades should be set in uniformly and smoothly to the rest of the body.
   BACK: The back of Cheviot sheep should be straight as possible from the top of the shoulder to the dock. A slightly elevated shoulder in comparison to the hip is acceptable. Additionally, slight slope of the hip from the hook to the pin bones is acceptable.
   FRONT FEET: Front View: Both feet should point forward and be perpendicular to the body with straightness from the chest floor to the toe.
   SIDE VIEW: Feet should be straight from the chest floor through the knee to the pastern. The angle of the pastern should be approximately 45 degrees. Less of an angle allows for weak pasterns and more of an angle allows for extreme straightness.
   REAR FEET: Side View: The back of the rear leg should be perpendicular to the pin bones of the hip. Less angle allows for post-legged individuals. More angle causes sheep to be sickle-hocked.
   REAR VIEW: Legs should be square and perpendicular to the corners of the body with equal distance between legs at the hock and the toe.
   MOVEMENT: Animals should maintain the proper correctness to the skeleton both while standing and moving. Many times structural defects are not evident until the animal moves about. It is then important to assess structural correctness both while the Cheviot is standing and moving.

For the beginner and veteran breeder alike, an excellent article on feet and leg soundness in sheep is “Feet and Legs” (North Central Regional Extension Publication #301) by Drs. Harold Henneman and Margaret Benson of Michigan State University.

IV. BODY 25 POINTS
   A. NECK: Moderately long, trim, and exhibiting extension, blending smoothly into shoulders, and contributing to an overall balanced appearance.
   B. SHOULDERS: Smoothly laid in from neck to back. Tight at top of the shoulder, also smooth at the point of the shoulder.
   C. CHEST, BRISKET, AND HEART GIRTH:
Chest deep and moderately wide, but trim, with adequate capacity, and fitting smoothly into neck and shoulders. Brisket also trim. Heart girth full, broad and deep to promote longevity.

D. BACK (TOPLINE): Long and level, no weakness in front or behind the shoulder.

E. RIBS: Deep and well sprung with adequate cover. Essential for vigor and ease of fleshing.

F. LOIN: Long, wide, deep, and well covered.

G. HINDQUARTERS: Hip broader than shoulders. Rump wide, long and level out to the dock. Leg heavily muscled.

H. UNDERLINE: Level and as parallel to the topline as possible. Flanks deep and full.

I. FLEECE: Chalky white in color, uniform crimp with blunt ends; staple is definite. Covers the body completely from behind the poll and ears to slightly above the knees and hocks, including the belly.

Wool Grade:

3/8 to 1/4 blood combing
(58s to 48s or 27 to 33 microns)

Weight of fleece:
Rams: 8 to 14 pounds
Ewes: 6 to 10 pounds

Fleece Characteristics can be highly objectionable but not disqualifying:
A. Black, brown or grey spots in the fleece
B. Hairy britch
C. Kemp throughout the fleece
D. Shiny fleece

J. TESTICLES (RAMS): Uniform and adequate size for age, and well descended from body. Free from any abnormalities. Scrotum free from any split.

K. TEATS (EWES): Two well placed teats of moderate length, free from any abnormalities.

IV. HIGHLY OBJECTIONABLE CHARACTERISTICS

1. Poor breed type
2. Scurs
3. Bare belly
4. High shoulders
5. Pink or white hooves

IMPLEMENTING NEW BREED STANDARDS

The new Cheviot Standards of Excellence were adopted at the 2004 annual meeting of the American Cheviot Sheep Society. The new Breed Standards are the result of more than two years of work by a committee formed in 2002. Through the process of updating the Cheviot Breed Standards, members presented many thoughts and proposals. These thoughts were debated until the final draft was approved by a vote of the members in November 2004.

While probably not perfect, these Standards represent a significant step forward in the preservation of both the desirable carcass and the beautiful and distinctive Cheviot appearance. Now the important task of applying these Standards is up to all Cheviot breeders. Taking time to explain and demonstrate the preferred Cheviot characteristics to young 4-Hers and others who desire to be Cheviot breeders is critical.

Another important task in assuring that these Standards are followed is to choose judges for national Cheviot competitions who will apply them in the show ring. To help the Board of Directors evaluate how an individual judge applies the breed Standards of Excellence, we as you to fill out the critique form found on the back page of the Cheviot Journal. If you need extra copies of the critique form, please contact the ACSS office. It is very important for each member to do this so we can establish a judge’s review to assist in the selection of judges for national shows who follow the Breed Standards.

The American Cheviot Sheep Society has taken a large step forward in guarding and maintaining the quality of our Cheviot breed. It is now up to each one of us to complete this task. Please fill out a judge critique form for each show you attend and follow the instructions for submitting the form. If you would like extra copies of the Cheviot Breed Standards of Excellence to share with judges in your area, please contact the ACSS office.

ALB Selects New Leadership

The American Lamb Board elected Fiscal Year 2020 leadership at its Jan. 22 meeting, held ahead of the American Sheep Industry Association Annual Convention in Scottsdale, Ariz. The newly elected chair is Gwendolyn Kitzan of South Dakota and the vice chair is David Quam of Texas. Elected for a second term as secretary is Greg Deakin of Illinois and the treasurer is Rob Rule of Iowa.

This meeting marked the retirement of four directors, all of whom have served the maximum of six years: Jim Percival, Ohio; Dale Thorne, Michigan; Diane Peavey, Idaho; and Greg Ahart, California. Joining the board, all for their first term, are: Jeff Ebert, Kansas; Gary Visintainer, Colorado; Donald Hawk, Ohio; and Travis Anderson, Oregon. The additional board members are: Elizabeth Dressler, Colorado; Tom Colyer, Massachusetts; Peter Camino, Wyoming; Sally Scholle, Pennsylvania; and Brad Anderson, Colorado.

ASI Convention Theme Permeates Week in Scottsdale

Reverence for the Past, Innovation for the Future was more than just a theme for the 2020 American Sheep Industry Association Annual Convention. Sheep industry leaders from across the United States came together Jan. 22-25 at the Scottsdale (Ariz.) Plaza Resort to put those words into action.

Front and center was the ASI Board of Directors’ financial support of a commercial wool testing lab at Texas A&M AgriLife Research and Extension Center in San Angelo, Texas. The American wool industry has been researching the need to continue wool testing in a facility in the United States for the last couple of years. In 2019, wool industry leaders met first in San Angelo to discuss options, and later traveled to New Zealand to tour that country’s testing facility.

While the New Zealand facility will be open to American wool producers in 2020, the goal is to have the lab in San Angelo test the 2021 wool clip. Texas A&M leadership supports the idea and provided a six-figure financial package, as well as existing building and some personnel related to the research that is conducted there today. The National Sheep Industry Improvement Center and ASI’s for-profit Sheep Venture Company are partnering on a commitment of $150,000 in grant money toward laboratory setup and training costs, while ASI will contribute $50,000 of wool funds.

“I think it’s amazing that such a small organization was able to come together and commit $200,000 to ensure we have access to wool testing in the United States,” said ASI Executive Director Peter Orwick. “Most of the American wool clip could not compete in the domestic or international markets without objective measurement, and the ASI leadership is pleased to support the wool experts at the university to provide this service.”

While details of the new lab put a nice bow on the final day of the convention, attendees were indoctrinated with the week’s theme from the outset. Thursday’s opening session provided a panel discussion with four industry innovators who built on the foundations established by their parents and grandparents and have worked to expand and grow those operations in ways their predecessors might never have imagined.

Producers Reed Anderson of Oregon, David Fisher of Texas, John Helle of Montana and Ryan Mahoney of California formed the panel. Each gave a presentation on where their operations began and worked from there to show how they’ve innovated from what were most often humble beginnings. Helle and his family earned the 2019 ASI Industry Innovation Award for developing a “sheep to shelf” dynamic that has proven popular with consumers. Anderson won the innovation award this year for building his own lamb processing facility to eliminate a bottleneck in his supply chain.

While Anderson and Helle looked to create new businesses to sustain their sheep industry involvement, Fisher and Mahoney are developing new programs and implementing new technology within their flocks to increase productivity and secure the bottom line. In many cases, that meant adding the use of technology, but Mahoney offers one key piece of advice.

“Get what works for you,” he said.

ASI is following that advice, as well, in two key areas with the development of the American Wool Assurance Program and the Secure Sheep and Wool Supply Plan. Wool standard programs have been popping up across the globe in recent years – mostly at the request of manufacturers and retailers – to show that wool is harvested in a responsible manner. With that in mind, ASI is working with Colorado State University to develop a wool standard that works for both producers and the companies who purchase, manufacture and sell wool. While the program is still in the developmental stage, Dr. Jason Ahola from CSU was on hand to discuss preliminary findings with wool producers in several meetings during the week.

The Secure Sheep and Wool Supply Plan being developed by ASI in conjunction with Iowa State University is aimed at addressing a possible disease outbreak within the sheep industry. Dr. Danelle Bickett-Weddle – who was on hand for the Production, Education and Research Council meeting last week – is working on disaster plans, as well as educational handouts, a website and more that will allow the sheep industry to come together to stop the spread of an infectious disease outbreak.

U.S. Department of Agriculture Under Secretary for Food Safety Dr. Mindy Brashears made her first speech of 2020 at the convention when she spoke to the ASI Board of Directors’ Informational Session on Friday afternoon and addressed two issues important to the sheep industry: fake protein and spring lamb. Brashears said USDA is working to address labeling of cell- and plant-based proteins, and that she expects a decision on the spring lamb petition in the next month or two.

In other association business, each of ASI’s eight regions met for individual caucuses, and three of those regions were tasked with electing new representatives to the ASI Executive Board. Region I elected Laurie Hubbard of Pennsylvania, Region III elected Anne Crider of Illinois and Region V elected Tammy Fisher of Texas. They were each elected to serve two-year terms on the Board, and will be eligible for reelection to a second, two-year term.

Retiring Executive Board members Don Kniffen of New Jersey, John Dvorak of Minnesota and Bob Buchholz of Texas were all honored for their years of service to the industry during the Saturday board meeting.

The Make It With Wool National Finals and Awards Banquet closed out the week on Saturday night. The Senior Winner and MIWW Ambassador for 2020 was Charlotte Waldron of Ohio. The Junior Winner and MIWW Ambassador was Madeline Douglas of Indiana. Meighan Stevens of Ohio was the Adult Winner, while Yiling Lai of Drexel University was the 2020 Fashion/Apparel Design Winner.

Meet Your Director: Kelly Copeland

I reside on a farm near Lewistown, Ohio. I have two daughters. Kaylee has graduated from Michigan State University and still lives in East Lansing, Michigan. Kasey still lives at home and goes to Ohio State University Lima Branch. I chose the Cheviot breed because I loved the look and up-headedness of the breed. I have approximately 200 brood ewes with 60 of them being Cheviots. I started with Cheviots in 1992 with a couple registered ewes bought locally. I have used predominantly Shoop and Moore rams when I started. In 2006 bought the Running S Bar flock. I started using Traglia breeding and leased Sue’s flock in 2018. I have always loved the look of the Cheviot breed and I would recommend them to anyone.

- Lambs nominated for futurity may receive points at any show, including both open and junior divisions
- A point sheet must be filled out for every show and be turned in by Nov 1 of the current year.
- Point forms can be found on www.cheviots.org

- Must fill out nomination form found at www.cheviots.org
- Lambs can be nominated through online sales and any public auction managed by Heartland Group, Banner Sale Mgmt., or any other recognized sale management

Who can participate in the ACSS Futurity?

- Any junior who is under 21 years of age and has paid the current year’s membership dues ($10)
- The nominated lamb must be in the junior’s name as of Sept 1 of the current year
- Only one junior can submit points forms for a specific sheep
- One junior can have multiple lambs in the futurity; however, the junior will only receive premiums for one lamb per category

Plan to join the Futurity Fun in 2020!
Cheviot Ewe Futurity
The American Cheviot Sheep Society will again sponsor the Cheviot Futurity open to all Junior Exhibitors. A “Junior Exhibitor” is defined as an exhibitor who is not older than 21 on the date of the Junior Cheviot Show at NAILE. There is no lower age limit, but the Junior must be physically capable of showing their own sheep (exception made for physical or other handicap). Each Junior may purchase more than one animal, but only one animal placing in the top eight will be awarded to the top placings.

Consignors will nominate animals at specified sales and only these animals will be eligible for the Futurity. All animals must be purchased at a designated sale. Most consignment and private online sales offer Futurity nominated animals.

Consignor Rules:
1. Entries include Spring Ewe Lambs born Jan. 1, 2020 or later and Fall Ewe Lambs born Sept. 1, 2019. Yearling Ewes that were previously nominated in 2019 as lambs can be re-nominated by the Juniors for $25.
2. Nominating fee of $25 is payable to the American Cheviot Sheep Society. Animals must be nominated and designated prior to entering the show ring of a designated sale. Futurity animals must be sold at the auction of a designated sale and not be pre-sold.
3. Animals must have Scrapie Identification in their ear prior to being sold.

Exhibitor Rules:
1. Age limitations for Junior Exhibitors: to be eligible to compete in the Futurity, an exhibitor must not be over 21 years of age on the date of the Junior Cheviot Show at NAILE.
2. Junior Members must be physically able to show their Futurity animal to qualify for points at each show (exception made for physical or other handicap). If an exhibitor has more than one Futurity animal in a class, the owning junior must show one and another exhibitor must show the second animal.
3. Futurity animals are to be registered in the individual Juniors name only. No partnerships, farm, family, 4-H Club or FFA Chapter names are acceptable.
4. Animals and points earned in the Futurity are not transferable to any other person; nor are the points transferable from one animal to another.
5. Any Futurity entrant may compete with as many animals as desired, but will receive a premium for the one animal with the highest point total, in each division.
6. Animals must be shown in proper age classes.
7. Premium: The American Cheviot Sheep Society has donated $800 to start the Futurity Premium. A percentage of this money will be awarded to each division based on the number of animals nominated. The nominating fee will stay within the designated division of the Futurity. Division 1 – Spring Ewe Lambs, Division 2 – Fall Ewe Lambs, Division 3 – Yearling Ewes.
8. The top eight places will be paid in each division.
9. A point card must be filled out for each show and forwarded to the American Cheviot Sheep Society office by November 1, 2020. The card must be signed by the Superintendent of the show certifying that the Junior exhibited the animal, class size and the placing of the animal.
10. For points-earned purposes, all shows are considered equal; i.e. AOB, Junior, Open, State and County receive equal point value in figuring points. Only the Junior Show at NAILE will be included.
11. Futurity animals may compete at any number of shows, but only the top five point-award shows will be included in determining awards.
12. Futurity Awards will be announced at NAILE.
13. The sliding scale shown in the chart indicates how points will be determined.

Michigan State Fair hosted the Regional Cheviot Show over Labor Day Weekend at the Suburban Collection Showplace in Novi, Michigan. Close to 50 head were shown by 7 exhibitors from Ohio, Indiana and Michigan.

Approximately $500 in added premiums and awards were given in the Open Show, paid by the American Cheviot Sheep Society, Willis Plank Family and John & Judy Moore. In addition there were 3 classes added to the Cheviot Show; Slick-Shorn Ram Lamb, Slick-Shorn Yearling Ewe and a Slick-Shorn Ewe Lamb.

Grand Champion Ram honors went to Gracyn Zerby, Ohio on her 1st place Junior Ram Lamb and Reserve Champion Ram was the 1st place Slick-Shorn Ram Lamb shown by Caitlyn Plank, Michigan. John and Judy Moore, Michigan had Grand Champion Ewe with their Yearling Ewe, she was also Supreme Champion Sheep. Reserve Champion Ewe honors went to Gracyn Zerby. Gracyn Zerby also had 1st place flock.

Some history about the Fair. In 2009, the Michigan Governor took away all funding for County Fairs and closed the Michigan State Fair, one of the oldest State Fairs in the United States. At that time it was held in Detroit. Within the next couple of years several people, spearheaded by LC and Jackie Scramlin formed a committee to start a new State Fair. The Great Lakes State Fair took place in 2012, at the Suburban Collection Showplace in the Detroit suburb of Novi.

In 2013, Fifth Third Bank became the name sponsor so the event became the Fifth Third Bank Michigan State Fair, again held in Novi at the Suburban Collection Showplace. Blair Bowman, proprietor Suburban Collection Showplace, a private entity organized the fair and it became Michigan State Fair LLC. The only State Fair that is privately owned.

Traditions dating back decades can still be seen at the Fair, as well as new traditions being started. Over the past 7 years $250,000 has been awarded in scholarships to Livestock, Home Arts and Agriculture and Urban Farming youth.

New in 2019 was the first for the Bill Bowman’s Supreme of Supremes Show. The show was judged by a committee of the 5 large animal species and the winner was awarded a $1000 prize. The Champion Cheviot Ewe was the sheep representative.

2020 All-American Junior Show Heading Back to a Favorite Show Site in Michigan

The 2020 All-American Junior Sheep Show is going to be held at the Michigan State Livestock Pavilion, East Lansing, MI from July 2–5, 2020. The Michigan planning committee is working hard to make it another excellent showing experience for all of our exhibitors and their families.

This will be the second year for the expanded show schedule in which major activities are done on Thursday, it worked out great in Kansas and allowed time to add the popular Leadline and Dress-A-Sheep competitions. Cheviots will be the first breed to show on Friday afternoon in the White Ring with Neal Knapp as the judge. Show information can be found at the AAJS website: www.allamericanjuniorshow.com.

If you have never attended an All-American Junior Show please make plans to attend this very special event! It is much more than just a sheep show as there are several activities for the whole family. Several activities are in the planning stages for the exhibitors and their families to enjoy including the 3-on-3 Basketball Tourney and Pizza night on Friday, and a BBQ & Corn Hole Tournament Saturday evening. The Corn Hole activity is a new addition to the show this year and will be hosted by the Michigan Planning Committee. The show of course also offers several educational activities for our exhibitors including a judging contest, skil-a-thon, individual and team showmanship classes besides the breed and market lamb classes. There will be two new breeds joining the show this year, Texels and Babydoll Southdowns. Look for more information in the premium book. Entries close May 25th.

It has become a tradition at the National Cheviot Sale in June to sell a donated Cheviot ewe lamb. Each year a group of individual breeders get together to buy the ewe lamb the first time and then donate her back to be sold again. If you would like to be apart of this buying group and will not be in Springfield for the National Sale contact Jeff at (785) 458–9174 or (785) 456–8500 to make a donation to this worthy promotion for our junior members. Most year the money raised on this ewe lamb covers the cost of the Cheviot portion of the All-American Junior Show.

Number of Cheviots in your flock: 60 head

Favorite show that you have attended and why?
A favorite show of mine that I have attended was the All-American Junior Sheep Show in Hutchinson, Kansas in 2014. It was a fun experience to travel such a distance with my dad and sister. We met and helped people from Indiana and Kansas with unsureness of seeing them again. However, a few years later in Michigan we ran into them again and keep in touch when we can.

What do you like about Cheviots?
My favorite characteristic of the Cheviot breed is the stance of their ears and dark points. I find the breed to be very eye catching with their snow white color, dark facial points, and very attentive to any form of movement.

Fondest Sheep Memory?
My fondest sheep memory was this past year at NAILE. I had just won Reserve Champion Ewe and was waiting my turn in the show arena to get my picture taken. I’m still unsure of how it happened as it happened so fast, but the ewe caught movement out of the corner of her eye and was instantly on the loose. She had taken off running, clearing the fence separating the rings, jumping over a sheep in a different ring, and finally being surrounded and caught. Of course the show is videotaped and live online. I had people text me and others ask me later in the week about that situation. Something I’m sure will never be let down.

Future Plans and Goals?
In the future, I hope to get a full time teaching job, living on a farm raising many kinds of animals, including Cheviot sheep, and raising a family.

What do you enjoy doing when not showing sheep?
In the off season or when I am not showing, I enjoy reading, spending time with my family, and volunteering in surrounding children organizations and activities.

Advice you would like to share with junior Cheviot members?
Advice I would give to junior Cheviot members is to ask questions, if you need help or just unsure of something. Everyone in this organization is very nice and willing to help. Obviously there are “old” and “new” styles of preparing sheep for show but being open and trying suggestions will help you either way. Also do your best to be involved. There are not many junior members that have Cheviots, so invite your friends to help, maybe someone that shows a different breed, and just promote your breed when you travel and go to other shows. Finally, always be open and communicative. Many people that come up to you at fairs, do not know the first thing about sheep. Be patient with them, share why Cheviots are your favorite, just be open to pause what you are doing, allow them to touch your sheep, and answer any questions that they may have.

Give a brief background on your education, activities.
I am finishing my last year at Reynolds high school. I started a program called duel enrollment and am currently taking college classes at Thiel College through my high school. I have participated in cross country and frack and field for 7 years. I am the president of the student council and the Vice President of my class.

Number of Cheviots in your flock: About 80 or 90

Favorite show that you have attended and why?
NAILE- first off I get a whole week off of school to play with animals... do I really need to give a better explanation than that!! But in all seriousness, I love the connections and the people I meet out there, getting to be reunited with my friends that I only get to see three or four times a year. Being able to bring homegrown Cheviots to a national show and hold our own in a ring full of amazing sheep and breeders it’s a show I hate to miss.

What do you like about Cheviots?
My favorite thing about cheviots are their eye catching looks and personality. They are the most beautiful sheep to look at in the show ring, they also have a personality like no other. Their “fight” always makes for an interesting time! A judge once said to me, while I was standing empty handed in the supreme drive at KILE, while my WHITE spring ram lamb ran around like a freight train, knocked over two people and then myself, “It ain’t a good show till a cheviot gets loose.”

Fondest Sheep Memory?
Winning showmanship at NAILE with my favorite sheep Ginger!

Future Plans and Goals?
I plan on becoming a Physician’s Assistant, and continuing to raise the family’s cheviot flock.

Advice you would like to share with junior Cheviot members?
Your work at a sheep card-er is never done
The only way to become excellent is to practice
Cheviots are a handful but can become your best friend

Introduce yourself and your family.
Greetings from Washington state! My name is Dean Hyden, owner and operator of Shepherd’s Bounty. Along with my wife of 25 years and two, now adult children, we keep a small market farm that is mostly for recreational enjoyment. My wife, Kari, is a critical care nurse at our local hospital and instrumental in assisting me with paperwork and overseeing my sheep medication expiration dates. My oldest son, Brennan, graduated from Washington State University and is now attending graduate school at Cornell University working towards his PhD in plant breeding. My youngest son, Juston is a member of the U.S. Airforce and specializes in Jet Propulsion. I work as a K-12 science instructor at Quartzite Learning and teach spinning and felting as a volunteer at our local library. Shepherd’s Bounty farm has been located in Chewelah, Washington for the past 17 years after residing in the Seattle area since the 1970’s. Our farm is overlooked by Quartzite Mountain and bordered by the Colville National Forest to the east and the Canadian border just 55 miles to the north.

Give us a brief description of your Cheviot Flock.
I have been raising registered Border Cheviots since 1976 and keep anywhere between 12 and 16 ewes and one ram as a show flock and sell replacement lambs and fleeces. Cheviot breed standards and characteristics that I work on are closer to the traditional older style bloodlines, emphasizing the qualities of the turn-of-the-century Border Cheviot sheep. These qualities that are emphasized are their hardiness and spirit, pert and upright ear set, and being active and bright eyed. The body is predominantly low set and covered with a long dense fleece.

Why did you choose to raise Cheviots?
I obtained my first Border Cheviot as a 4-H project from my grandparents’ neighbor, Elliot Monroe. I was not too familiar with any other breed of sheep at the time as my family had been dairy farmers for many generations, but something about the elegance and style his Cheviot possessed spoke to me. The enthusiasm that Mr. Monroe shared about the Border Cheviot breed made it an easy decision and I have not been disappointed over the years.

What advice do you have for people starting out with Cheviots?
Intently study the breed character and conformation of what you feel your ideal Border Cheviot should be and always strive towards what you like, no matter what others may say. Be proud of your breed and let it represent the best of attributes for which it is known. Make it a goal to help at least one other individual get started in raising the Cheviot breed each year. Give back unselfishly to your sheep community and those wanting to get started in raising any breed of sheep, especially youth. Study historical shepherding techniques that enable sheep to thrive with minimal input. Don’t be afraid to pick up those books written a hundred plus years ago as they are a wealth of knowledge. Invest in equipment such as scales, shoots, ramps and crowd gates to work with your animals, minimizing stresses and making the shepherding experiences enjoyable.

What are one or two things that you have found to be critical needs for the success of your Cheviot Flock?
The most important thing that I have learned about breeding Cheviots, or any livestock, is that when you go out to the barn, you should be pleased with what you see. What works for one shepherd or looks appealing to that individual may not be the most ideal candidate for your situation or environment. Preferably, find a style of sheep that you like, post a photograph of it in your barn, and every time you are working your sheep give yourself a goal of breeding your entire flock to meet those standards of your ideal animal.

Who are some people that you credit for your success with Cheviots?
Elliot Monroe. I made it a point to visit him whenever I was at my grandparents. He became an amazing mentor and teacher, guiding me through all the aspects of caring for and managing a flock of sheep. A lot of discussion was on looking at body confirmation and introducing me to the science of genetics and outcomes. I can still trace back all my ewes’ lineage to that first Cheviot that I purchased forty plus years ago from Mr. Monroe.

Final four quick questions, just for fun
What is your favorite sports team?
I am not really a big follower of sports teams but if I had to choose it would be my son Juston’s tennis team in high school. A true gentleman’s sport.

What is your favorite food?
Oysters and various shellfish from our vacation place on the Olympic Peninsula

What is the top item on your bucket list?
To visit breeders of Border “South Country” Cheviots in their native Scotland and possibly import some semen.

What is your favorite place you have visited?
I have had the pleasure of visiting over twenty countries on my travels. Though every place has a beauty unique to its environment and culture, no place touches me more than our little vacation place on Marrowstone Island in Washington state.
Introduce Yourself & Family-
I am Joan MacCauley Lawrence from Pennsylvania and owner of Breezeview Farm Cheviots. When I was small my dad brought home three grade Suffolk lambs. A couple of years later I bought a registered Suffolk ewe which developed into Breezeview Farm with my husband, Bill MacCauley and our three children, Billy, Nancy, and Donna. We also had a few purebred Cheviots. When my husband passed away Billy took over my Suffolk flock. Fifteen years ago, Richie and I added a few registered Cheviots to Breezeview Farm.

Brief Description of Your Cheviot Flock-
My husband Richie and I build the flock up to 40 ewes. I now have cut it back to about 25 ewes. I strive for half the ewes lambing in the fall. Breed character is very important in my flock with emphasis on structural correctness, good bone mass and feed efficiency. Breezeview 402 “Rebel” is in the breeding of most of my sheep now. Most of my flock goes back to Misty Acres, Spilde, DeVries and Rincker.

How did you choose Cheviots-
I chose Cheviots because of easy lambing, feed efficiency and moderate size. They are also very hardy with almost no foot problems. I love to look out on the pasture and see a flock of beautiful Cheviots.

What advice do you have for people starting out with Cheviots-
My advice would be to start out with older ewes that have lambed. They are excellent mothers and usually know more than a person just beginning. If you have children that want them, buy a couple lambs so they can work with them to become easily handled. Also, make sure they look like Cheviots with good heads. They do not need to be the biggest, but need to be structurally correct.

What are one or two things that you have found to be critical needs for the success of your Cheviot flock-
We need to keep Cheviot breed type according to the Cheviot Standard. The ram is very important because he is the influence on half of all lambs born. They need good feed and wormed when needed.

Who are some people that you credit for your success with Cheviots-
I credit Henry Kuykendall for my success with Cheviots. He always stressed breed type and proper feeding. Billy, Evan Snyder and Issac Garges are the ones that help me and discuss ideas with and do heavy work for me.
